

CITY COUNCIL HOLDS MEETING

Salary of Health Officer Vaught is Reduced.—Chief Ogden Exonerated And Routine Business Transacted.

The City Council met in regular session Friday night with all members present except Mr. Scobee, whose wife is critically ill at St. Joseph's Hospital in Lexington. The sympathy of the Council was extended Mr. Scobee.

Health Officer Jolted
The salary of the City Health Officer Dr. J. C. Vaught was reduced from $25 a month to $5 a month. This was done in order to make the office vacant. According to a state law the Council has no power to elect or discharge the Health Officer, but has the power to fix his salary.

Ogden Exonerated

The committee which had been appointed to investigate charges of irregularities made by Walter ("Hoss") Ecton, against the Fire Chief Stoner Ogden dismissed the charges. The committee reported that it had met and had summoned Ecton to appear before them; that Ecton declined to restate the charges or to furnish the names of witnesses. The Street Committee reported that owing to legislation pending in the State Legislature regarding the construction of streets they were unable to advance any information concerning the brick streets, as ordered at a previous meeting. The bill, which has already passed the House of Representatives but which has not yet gone to the Senate, requires the city to pay one half and the property owner one half for the construction or reconstruction of streets.

Asphalt Discussed

Fred Phares, of Lexington, representing the Barber Asphalt Paving Company, and Mr. Carey, of the Carey-Reed Company, of Lexington, appeared before the Council and gave some information in regard to asphalt streets. Mr. Carey stated that the asphalt street could be laid for about $2 per square yard and that brick could be laid for about $2.35 per square yard.

It was carried that the Central Kentucky Traction Company be required to repair the streets within 18 inches on both sides of their tracks according to the provision of their franchise.

Dead Birds in Water

Dr. Browne stated that dead birds were allowed to fall in the stand-pipe which supplies the city with water. The matter was referred to the City Attorney who will take it up with the Water Works Company.

Rutledge Gets Job

Inasmuch as the map showing the sewer connections has not been completed, former City Engineer S. H. Rutledge was employed at a "reasonable compensation" to furnish Mr. Collins, the Consulting Engineer, with such data as he may need.

Can Tap Sewer Now

The sewer is now ready to be tapped and the location of connections can be secured from Inspector J. L. B. White.

It was ordered that the Mayor, on the written order of the City Attorney, convey to T. G. Stuart ten city bonds as part payment for the Court View Hotel property, which was purchased at a previous meeting as a site for the City Hall.

The public drinking fountains which were frozen, will be repaired.

No Report on Sewer System

Dr. Browne, as chairman of the Sewer Committee, reported that it was not ready to make a statement.

In regard to the disposal of water on the west end of Washington street, the committee reported that a trade had been made with the railroad, whereby the railroad and the city shall each make certain repairs. About 1,100 feet of fifteen inch sewer pipe was purchased from the E. T. Lewis Company at an approximate price of $350, the pipe to be paid for when the company takes up one sewer bond as requested at a previous meeting of the Council.

The Building Committee was ordered to investigate and receive bids for the old city hall property and for the bonds issued to raise money for the building of the City Hall.

Brick crossings were ordered by the city to be laid as follows: Four in Bucktown, one on Lexington avenue at Burns, and one on Flanagan street, at Buckner.

The payroll for the quarry and teams was $123.01; for street labor $53.05.

The Printing Committee was ordered to receive bids for the codification, indexing, etc., of the city ordinances, preparatory to having same printed.

An ordinance was adopted designating the manner in which the street employees shall be paid.

The following policemen executed bond with the Merlin Casualty Company as surety: Woodson McCord, Dan Insko, J. T. Dykes and W. R. Shrode.

The Winchester Garage was granted the privilege of placing a small house for a gasoline pump on Main street in front of the Auditorium.

City Officers' Reports

The report of the police officers showed in the past month that there were 11 cases tried; fines and costs amounting to $86.50 collected; $73.10 collected on old bonds; and Commonwealth costs of $55.

The report of the Treasurer showed $6,774.37 in the general fund; $4,080.37 in the school sinking fund; $5,661.32 in the sewer sinking fund; an overdrawn account of $141.89 in the sewer construction fund; $394.09 in the city hall sinking fund.

The City Clerk reported licenses to the amount of $7 collected.

The City Collector reported $211.90 collected on white property tax; $108.90 on colored property $35.35 on polls; and a tangible tax of $519.05.

INVESTIGATION FOR HOOK WORM

Is Being Made Among Pupils of City School.—One Case is Found at Ford.

An investigation is being made in the City Schools of this city to ascertain if there are any cases of hook worm among the pupils.

The investigation, which is being carried on in all the states, is financed largely by a fund donated by Rockefeller. The work in each state is directed by the State Board of Health.

During the investigation in Kentucky which has been in progress only a month, more cases have been found than in any other state during a four month's investigation.

Over one hundred persons have been examined at Ford. Of this number only one case of hookworm was found.

When a person is found to be afflicted with the disease no one is informed of it but the person himself. If the case warrants it, treatment is provided.

As yet it is not known if there are any cases in the City Schools.

FISHY, NEVERLESS TRUE

Noticing in Thursday's News the experience of Judge Benton while in Barboursville among the fish in the town branch leads a gentleman to remark—that is not a circumstance to what befell him once on the Cumberland river.

He says that he attached numerous lines to a fishing suit made to order and which was worn by him at the time, baiting each hook with a good-sized chunk of cow's liver, he waded out into celebrated hole for fish. The lines some 15 or 20 feet in number were from six to eight feet in length and securely fastened to his person. For a while he waded about nothing but his head being visible above the water until a monster seized a line on his left leg which rendered locomotion impossible, and while standing motionless in mid-stream other fish fellows were securely fastening themselves to the other lines. Finding himself in great danger of being towed off into deeper water he raised a terrible yell, which attracted some river men who came to the bank and said why don't you come out? Hell, said he, I can't come out. Then three of them waded in and tried to pull the fisherman to shore but they could not budge him. So one of the men said, yonder is Dick Newell ploughing, go and get him to bring his oxen and we will see if he can be brought to land. Accordingly the suggestion was adopted, and Dick came promptly and attached a cable to the man, and he was with great difficulty dragged ashore, having attached to him 753 pounds of live fish as ever came out of the Cumberland. The largest one a monster cat, weighed 85 pounds, the others ranging in weight from 65 down as low as 53 pounds.

FOREIGN MISSIONARY RALLY TO BE HELD

Three Sessions Are to Be Conducted at First Christian Church, With Able Addresses.

A Foreign Missionary Rally will be held at the First Christian church on Wednesday next. There will be three sessions—10 a. m. to 12 m., 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. and at 7:30 p. m.

BOYS' WORK INSTITUTE

Famous Men Take Super at Brown-Proctoria And Discuss Plans For Good Work.

The following men met Friday evening for supper at the Brown-Proctoria to discuss further plans concerning the Boys' Work Institute that begins Saturday night: N. P. Van Meter, C. H. Loveland, J. W. Chambers, Prof. B. T. Spence, C. H. Rees, Samuel Willis, Chas. Venable, Jas. Cumming, Philo C. Dix and E. S. Wooley. From the discussion there it seems that the conferences will be very successful and helpful.

The first session will be Saturday night at 7:30 in the Sunday school room of the First Presbyterian church. The general theme will be "Problems of Boys' Work in Winchester," with the following topics: (a) "Do We Need Boys' Work," (b) "Some of Our Tasks," (c) "Essentials of Leadership in Boys' Work," (d) "Things that are Being Done for Boys in Towns Like Winchester."

These questions will be discussed by local and visiting speakers. Philo C. Dix, E. S. Wooley and W. C. Paige, of Louisville, will be present to direct the conference.

An informal discussion of Winchester's problems in Boys' Work will follow the presentation of the above topics. A good attendance of all interested is desired, especially Sunday school superintendents and teachers, and all who work with boys.

Sunday morning every church will have a sermon on Boys' Work by a visiting speaker. Sunday afternoon at the Presbyterian church at 3 o'clock, President J. C. Acheson, of Caldwell college, Danville, will deliver his noted address, "The Boy Problem."

Every man and woman in Winchester should avail themselves of this opportunity to hear this noted address. At the same time in the Courthouse a mass meeting for boys only will be held, conducted by E. S. Wooley, of Louisville.

Union Services at the Christian church at 7:30 Sunday night will be the most unique meeting of the whole institute. Slides giving views of Boys' Work, especially at Camp Daniel Boone, will be used in the 20 minute stereopticon talk.

Four boys who were at Camp Daniel Boone, will tell of their experience. This will be followed by two or three other brief talks by local and visiting men. There will be special music by Cecil Noe, the noted boy cornetist, of Lexington. Master Cecil is only 15 years old, but is probably the best cornetist in Kentucky. He will play at both the Sunday afternoon meetings and Sunday night.

No collection will be taken at any of the meetings.

Secretaries—one from India and one from China, will conduct the rally. There will be other addresses. The public is cordially invited.

FINE WELDING APPARATUS

Is Installed at Mr. Charles Hagan's Machine And Repair Shop, On Broadway and Highland Streets.

Mr. Charles Hagan has installed at his machine and repair shop at the corner of Broadway and Highland streets, an economy Oxy-Acetylene Welding Apparatus, the only one of the kind in the state.

By the aid of this apparatus, the establishment is in a position to repair, by welding all parts promptly and without delay to their customers, which otherwise would have to be ordered from the manufacturer.

Mr. Hagan is to be congratulated upon having graduated from the antiquated system of replacing broken parts by ordering them from the manufacturer, thereby causing undue and expensive delays awaiting their arrival.

The modern machine shop must be equipped with every facility to get the work out quickly, in first class shape and at the least possible cost to owners.

It was with this end in view that Mr. Hagan has installed the Economy Oxy-Acetylene Welding Apparatus.

Tunis, of Fayette county, prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors within 400 yards of the campuses of the State University or the Normal Schools and other granting pensions to aged, retired and indigent school teachers one by Senator Claude M. Thomas, compelling connection between rival telephone and telegraph companies and also adjourned until 12 o'clock Monday.

Among the bills favorably reported by committees to the House was one by Representative R. D. Hunter, of Clark county, providing that labels be placed on kegs, cans, buckets, barrels, boxes or bottles, containing lard, oil or grease of any kind, showing date of manufacture, and another by Representative Francis B. Douglas, of Boyle county, giving councils in cities of the fourth class the right to say how profits from public utilities owned by the city shall be used.

PEOPLE'S FORUMMY GRUMPS ON EDUCATION

To the Editor of The News:

Education should aid men in the battle of life to make a "living"; but does it?

Observation extending over a period of a half a century does not answer, yes. We have seen hundreds of country boys, mountain boys, farmers, peasants from Germany without education and the latter unable to speak English, start in with nothing in the pocket, as hired men on the farm and in 20 and 25 years be free, and own a fine farm or business.

We have not seen the college young men do the same. In most cases he is not bravely meeting and facing the problems of life. He is still a salary man, in one capacity or another, instead of starting at the bottom and working up to the top round of the ladder, and in a few years becoming master of his business.

Why is this so? We are almost ready to believe the penalty of ignorance and poverty are worth more than education in the real battle of life. And we are led to ask the question: "Does Education make our young men soft, afraid and filled with higher notions?" So or not so, nevertheless, I will back the poor farmer boy, to enter the race for ownership of a farm, unaided, and in 20 years come out ahead.

Should education take away a man's courage and disposition to make sacrifices? I suspect our education system of being at fault.

OUR POPULAR LEGISLATOR

Everybody likes a little fun and even the solemn solons of the Lower House of the Kentucky Legislature sometimes stop a moment in their heavy brain-work and take theirs.

Last Thursday was one of these occasions. They had just voted upon a semi-important question when one of the members arose with great dignity and said: "Mr. Speaker, I desire to note that the gentleman from Clark is present and not voting."

Every eye was turned to Mr. Hunter's seat, which was vacant, but the Speaker's eyes were directed toward the gallery. Others followed his lead until finally every member of the House was gazing at one spot where two ladies sat apparently alone.

Suddenly they separated, each moving to one side, when there was revealed in the seat behind them the timid form of Clark county's popular widower member. Caught dead to rights he stood the fire for a moment and then beat a hasty retreat while the House roared.

PURE MILK

The state pure food authorities at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station reported Tuesday to County Attorney Scott Bullitt, of Louisville, sixty-five cases for selling watered or skimmed milk against dairymen supplying Louisville and certain restaurants. These cases resulted from the extensive inspections that have recently been made throughout the whole of the Louisville milk field and other parts of Kentucky.

The samples were collected from the milk depots, the dairymen, the restaurants, the hotels and other places where milk is served, and when a sample was found to be watered or skimmed, further investigation was made to determine who was responsible. About 700 samples were analyzed in Louisville and 65 cases reported for prosecution. In most instances the milk was taken from the dairymen's herds to determine how much water had been added to the milk as supplied by the dairymen's cows.

JOUETT VS. WHITECASE IS ARGUED

The case of E. S. Jouett against John G. White was argued in the Court of Appeals Friday by D. L. Pendleton for Jouett, and Judge E. C. O'Rear for White. This is the suit in which Jouett got a verdict against White a year ago for $13,300 upon the claim that White had obtained a profit of $40,500 in a land transaction in which Jouett was a one-third partner.

White appealed from the judgment of the lower court and it is this appeal which was argued.

Says Little Real Progress.
Has the race progressed? Only, we are told, in the sense of acquiring a little more material comfort. Civilized man today is no more moral than the savage, no different from man in the earliest Stone Age. His only goal is that for which he started when the second ice age extinguished the lost Paradise—self-preservation. Progress is simply the artificial re-creation of the lost Paradise—Exchange.

TARGET IN FEUD FIGHT

Neighbors Had Trouble Over Ditch
and Body of Lowly Long-Eared Beast Serves as Shield Until Anger of Armed Assailant Cools.

Macon, Mo.—A Missouri mule has added new laurels to his kind. According to the record in a case in the Macon circuit court an long-eared animal that toils on an Eagle township tract for Farmer Ben Harrison, saw his neighbor, Alonzo Dixon, point a deadly gun, "to-wit, a shotgun loaded with gunpowder and ball," at his master. It was so sudden that Harrison had no time to dodge, but the mule stepped in the breach just as Dixon pulled the trigger and received the load intended for Harrison.

The mule did not die. He kept his body between his master and his assailant until Dixon's anger cooled, and he was glad his shot had not reached the target he aimed at.

The trouble was over the drainage ditch between the men's farms. Dixon thought Harrison was encroaching on his land and went out to see about it. "He got mad about it and fired at Harrison, but hit the mule.

To shoot at a man with a deadly weapon is a felony, whether your bullet lands or not. Information was filed in due form, and process served.

Mule Saves Master's Life.

and Dixon came down to Macon to let the circuit judge fix his punishment.

Harrison had sent word that he wouldn't prosecute the man who had shot at him, and that if it were necessary to pronounce a penitentiary sentence he hoped the court would parole him. Harrison said Dixon had a large family to provide for and that it would never do to take him away from them. Judge Shelton sentenced Dixon to the penitentiary for two years, and then paroled him.

"I admit I was a bit hasty," said Dixon, "and I'm mighty glad the old mule was in the way. Harrison is a good man, and we had been friends until that ditch matter came up."

HAVE ADAM AND EVE PARADE

Society Procession as Aftermath of Smart Dance Shocks Pennsylvania Town.

Lutro, Pa.—Society of this place is shocked over a parade, the aftermath of a smart dance, which occurred along the main thoroughfare of Lutro early the other morning.

Some of the costumes worn by members of the fair sex in the parade were too shocking to mention. Some appeared as "Eves" and their male companions as "Adams." And there were enough "Salomes" to fill a small-sized theater.

Shortly before dawn the residents of Lutro were startled by yell that sounded something like Indian war-whoops. As soon as the paraders were sure everybody was looking they gave a series of dances in the middle of the street.

Some one telephoned the police. A policeman, who incidentally is a Sunday school teacher, was sent with orders to arrest the crowd. He went, he saw, but he failed to conquer, because he could not stand the sight. He ran back to the police station, shouting cry of "Out, horrors!"

Next time he was "out on the books" for failing to arrest the masqueraders. The parade given by the smart set of Newport was a Sunday school meeting compared to this parade, according to those who viewed it from bedroom windows.

Shot by His Own Wolf Trap.
Wilber, Neb.—Arthur Krauter, a farmer near here, was shot by his own spring gun wolf trap. He was trying to drive a calf into his barn and accidentally stumbled over the trap, kicking the bait. Both barrels of the gun were discharged into his feet and legs. More than 20 shots were removed later.

FAMILY'S WELLSPRING OF JOY

Hope of the Household Has Some Fun With His Anxious Relatives and a Safety Pin.

Uncle John flew down the back stairs! So great was his momentum that before he could stop himself he had gone half-way across the kitchen, and banged into the kitchen table. Turning, he rushed out of the kitchen, through the back hall, and out at the door, which he slammed behind him. Meanwhile Ellen, the nursemaid, stood before the telephone, and wildly fidgeted her hands—except when at regular intervals she needed them to take down the receiver in order to see if the line was still busy.

Upstairs a red-faced, squalling baby kicked and squirmed in the arms of its distracted mother. This strangling infant was the unhappy cause of all the excitement, for, as Ellen affirmed with tears in her eyes, it had swallowed a safety-pin. Although, to the mother, it seemed hours, it was in reality but a short time before Uncle John, puffing like a steam engine, returned. Behind him came the baby's father, wild-eyed and pale. At the same instant the doorbell frantically announced the doctor.

All three men tore up stairs into the nursery, where they formed a semi-circle round the human storm-center.

Suddenly the baby stopped screaming to gaze in wide-eyed astonishment at the frantic men before him. Then he looked down at the floor, and murmured, "Pity! pity!" pointed to a large, bright safety-pin, which lay near at hand, provokingly innocent, on the nursery rug.—Youth's Companion.

MANKIND IS STILL MEDIEVAL

Woman Lawyer Says the Attitude Toward Her Sex Is Unjust and Barbaric.

That legislation tending to make marriage more difficult and divorce easier would lessen some of the evils of the social system was the opinion put forward in a talk on "The Law and the Lady," by Miss Mary Wood, a lawyer, at the Woman's Forum.

Miss Wood began her paper with a history of the attitude of the English lawmakers toward woman, touching on various statutes that now seem eccentric, such as the provision of the middle ages, which limited the cost of the cloth in a woman's dress to twelve pence a yard.

"And yet that was no more barbaric," said Miss Wood, "than the bill of the Massachusetts legislator, who would have put a ban on the skirts that were less than six inches below the knee, decorated gowns and fancy clocks on stockings. The bill was killed. I don't know what happened to the man who fathered it."—New York Evening Post.

Temper Talk.

A girl does not look pretty when her face is convulsed with rage. Her lover will not forget how she looked.

Nor does a man look dignified, nor does he as a rule, talk sense, when he is rowing with his sweetheart. Some day, after they are married, perhaps, she will remember what a vulgar fool he made of himself, once upon a time, and she will remind him of it. And then he will be very sick and sorry for himself.

So don't get angry. It is never worth while.

And it isn't a bit clever, either. Any monkey will chatter if it is teased. Any cat will spit if its tail is trodden on.

Try to be more human than a monkey or a cat. Try to smile when you feel like scowling, for when you scowl or frown it leaves wrinkles which can never be removed by treatment of any kind, and it is not worth while to spoil the beauty of the face for a scowl.

Dangerous Animal.

An Ohio man and his wife with a couple of friends went out for a run in the country the other day in their motor car. The trip was quite a long one and they arranged to have lunch out in the woods. As they neared their destination a stop was made and one of the party made his way into the bush on the side of a hill to get water. He was gone an unusually long time, and on his return explained his delay by saying: "There was only a trickling stream coming from the spring, so I had to wait. There was a ram down there in the bushes, and it seemed to be taking up all the water."

"A what?" inquired the hostess.

"A ram—hydraulic ram."

"My!" she said with some surprise. "Weren't you afraid of the little beast?"

Little Fathers.

Mr. S. Joseph Baker of the department of health in New York has had picture films made showing how the "little mothers" learn their lessons. Recently "little fathers" took their turn and all the small boys in the neighborhood of one of the schools were busy borrowing babies, and they showed themselves very apt at learning how to take care of them. These children have to care for the babies while their mothers are at work and are taught to do it scientifically.

Housewarming.

"Moved into your cozy flat, eh?" "Yes."

"Going to have a housewarming?" "That's what I'm just going to ask the landlord to speak to the janitor about."

HOW COLD AFFECTS

THE KIDNEYS.

Avoid taking cold if your kidneys are sensitive. Cold congests the kidneys, throws too much work upon them, and weakens their action. Serious kidney trouble and even Bright's disease may result. Strengthen your kidneys, get rid of the pain and soreness, build them up by the timely use of Foley Kidney Pills. They will cure any case of kidney or bladder trouble not beyond the reach of medicine. No medicine can do more.
